Then nothing The player does not show up on my device list either I tried reaching out to Samsung but they claim that dont offer support -- I bought a new computer because I was told that the issue was with my desktop.

Ive got a Samsung external writer here that wont work right unless I use two USB connectors from my iMac.. Looks like my best bet is to get one with the optional power plug this time I had no idea that a year-old machine would not work on a new computer..
